NINETEEN TWENTY-EIGHT

VOLUME XIV

PUBLISHED BY THE
SENIOR CLASS OF CARY HIGH SCHOOL
CARY, NORTH CAROLINA

ENGRAVED, PRINTED AND BOUND BY EDWARDS & BROUGHTON CO.
RALEIGH, N. C.

FOREWORD

WE, the Senior Class, take pleasure in presenting this the fourteenth volume of the CHSITE. We have tried to portray the different phases of our High School life in pleasant scenes. As we go forth in life, we hope you will find pleasure in reading and reviewing the activities of the student body and Senior Class.

Dedication

NOT influenced by the example set by the class of '27, but by our own love and appreciation for the many sacrifices made to give us the opportunities that have made possible this publication, we affectionately dedicate, to our mothers and fathers, this the fourteenth volume of the CHSITE.

"Daky"

Cary, North Carolina

Home Economics

Irving Society; Pianist Society '27; Secretary Class '25; Treasurer Class '26; Track Team '25; Class Poetess '28.

Talented, Modest, Neat
And—

Daisy is a girl who always has a smile for those about her. She is seldom seen idle, but makes the most of her opportunities and believes that one must work to succeed. Daisy never says much, but when she speaks she has something worth while to say. Her musical talent knows no limit. We are sure that Daisy will make a great name for herself in the future.

"Guess this riddle?
Hey diddle diddle;
Squeak, squeak;
It's Daisy and her fiddle."

JACK HAMPTON BURRUS
"Jack"

Raleigh, North Carolina

Academic

Clay Society; Secretary Society '27-28; Boys Glee Club '26-27; Football '26-27; Captain Football '27-28; Track Team '26-27; Dramatic Club '27-28; Science Club '27-28; Secretary Sophomore Class '25-26; Y. T. F. Club '27-28; Baseball '27-28.

Slow, Honest, Able
So—

Jack was a Sophomore last year, but he decided to graduate this year so he is now a welcome addition to the Senior Class. We have not been with Jack long enough to know about him, but we are sure that his good qualities outnumber his bad ones. Here's wishing you much success in the future.

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the wisest men."

JESSIE MAE BYRD
"Jack"

Durham, North Carolina

Academic

Irving Society; Glee Club '27-28; Senior Play '28; Dramatic Club '27-28; Vice President Dramatic Club '28; Vice President Glee Club '28; Assistant Secretary Society '27; Class Prophetess '28.

Tall, Studious, Wortby
although—

Jessie Mae hasn't been with us all four years of our high school life, but she was a welcome addition to the class of '26. She slipped into the spirit of everything and has won a wealth of friends. She is capable of doing even the worst jobs, yet she is never too busy to stop and help her friends or to practice ball. We can not doubt that everything she tackles will be a success.

"Whenever it comes to playing you'll find her ready for fun;
But—also ready when there's work to be done."

CHARLES WILSON FONVILLE
"Wilson"

Neuse, North Carolina

Academic

Clay Society; President Society '28; Treasurer '25; Secretary Society '26; Clay Improvement Medal '27; Commencement Marshal '27; Treasurer Freshman Class; Science Club '26-27; Glee Club '27; Y. M. C. A. '26; Commercial Class '28; Tennis Team '25-28; Joke Editor CHSITE '28.

Cheerful, Witty, Industrious
therefore—

Here's an all-round boy. Wilson has been with us four years and has always been admired by his classmates. While in college we feel that he will be one of the leading students. He is very much interested in his work, and will surely win success in future life.

"If Wilson is your friend there is nothing too much that he can do."

FRANCES MARGARET CHADWICK
"Hi-Pocket"

Greenville, South Carolina

Academic

Irving Society '27-28; Treasurer Society '28; Glee Club, '27-28—President '27; Dramatic Club '27-28; Tennis Club '28—President '28; Basketball Team '27-28; Track Team '28.

Fair, Winsome, Stylish
and—

Frances, who has been nicknamed Hi-pocket, is one of our boarding students. She has been endowed with a pair of sparkling eyes, a happy face, and beautiful brown hair. She is always smiling and always cheerful, and we can truly say that she is a good sport.

"Thus it may be truly said,
Natural wit on a level head."

REGINALD CARROLL GODWIN
"Grand-pa"

Columbia, North Carolina

Academic

Clay Society; Chaplin Society '28; Dramatic Club '28; Sub Football Team '27; Associate Editor CHSITE '28; Y. T. F. Club '28; Reporter Y. T. F. Club '28; Class Lawyer '28; Tennis Team '28.

Dependable, Trustworthy, Friendly
therefore—

"Grandpa" is a valuable person to the Senior class. He never worries about the trifles that perplex his classmates, yet he is reliable and businesslike at all times. He must like chickens judging from his present occupation, and judging from his efforts we know he has a bright prospect.

"Still water runs deep."

HELEN BARBARA HINES
"Helen"

Raleigh, North Carolina

Academic

Lowell Society; Manager Tennis Club '26-27; Cheer Leader '26-27; Girls Basketball Team '26-27-28; Track Team '26-27, Science Club '26-27, Critic Society '26.

Attractive, Goodlooking, Athletic
therefore—

Helen is a fine girl that is liked by every one. She has been with us through the greater part of our high school days. Helen takes part in athletics and we are expecting her to be a success in the future. Although very popular with the boys she finds time to pass her work. She has proven a sincere, dependable girl. We know she will be a leader in life.

*"Flirt? We say she can,
Then vamp her a man."*

PARK MATHEWSON, JR.
"Ted"

Raleigh, North Carolina

Academic

Clay Society; Assistant Manager Football Team '27.

Happy-go-lucky, Friendly, Kind
and—

"Ted" hails from New York and takes every advantage to boast of its merits. His good qualities have won for him many friends during his stay at Cary. He has a ready vein of humor, but he is capable of carrying himself with dignity when the occasion demands it. We hate to lose "Ted," but we prophesy a brilliant future for him. We know that he will succeed in whatever he chooses as his life vocation.

*"If worry were the only cause of death,
Then "Ted" would live forever."*

MARY HUDSON HOUSE

Home Economics—Academic

Irving Society; Vice President Society '27; Secretary Society '28, Home Economics Club '27, Treasurer Home Economics Club '27, Dramatic Club '28, Science Club '28; Treasurer Science Club '28.

Quiet, Lovable, Brief
and—

She seems demure at a distance, but on closer acquaintance we find that the gods have bestowed on her that priceless possession that they give to few—a sense of humor. To understand her true qualities one must really know her. She is dutiful in all worthy things and never puts off until tomorrow what she can do today. Her lovable disposition and smile have won a high place in our hearts and she has been a great help to us during our four years in high school. We are sure that she will be a great success in future life.

Agriculture

Clay Society; Y. T. F. Club '28.

Friendly, Cheerful, Willing
so—

Felix is one of the few that have been with us during our entire high school career. He is interested in Agriculture and it has been said that he expects to be a farmer. Felix doesn't say much, but he means what he says. We hate to part from you, Felix.

*"Felix is just another 'aggie' boy
That deceives his looks."*

MARY ELIZABETH JONES
"Lib"

Raleigh, North Carolina

Lowell Society; Vice President Society '28; Dramatic Club '28; Vice President Dramatic Club '28; Cheer Leader '28; Glee Club '28.

Attractive, Cute, Lovable
but—

"Lib" and her perpetual chewing gum has won a warm place in the hearts of all her classmates. Lib is not very fond of studying, but she always likes to pass her work. One of her favorite duties is that of cheer leader. Every one enjoys hearing "Lib" giggle and we feel sure her future life will be full of happiness.

*"She is not a 'Comedy of Errors'
Nor a 'Midsummer Night's Dream'
But take 'L' 'As You Like It,'
She is just what she seems."*

RAYMOND JAMES ROGERS
"Raymond"

Raleigh, North Carolina

Academic

Calhoun Society '28; Football Squad '28; Baseball '28; Track '28.

Tall, Easy-going, Handsome tho—

Raymond came to us from Raleigh—nevertheless he is one of the best fellows in the class of '28. He is a quiet sort of chap, but only when the occasion requires such, because those who have been closely associated with him have learned that he is pretty apt to express himself, and they have learned to value highly whatever Raymond has to say on any matter.

Raymond has made a mark for himself on the football field, being one of our best players.

Raymond, here's to your success in whatever profession you undertake.

*"Sober, quiet, patient, and demure,
A friend of whom you're always sure."*

Square, Studious, Dependable
and—

She may be short in stature but her ambition is high. Having won the scholarship in '27 and having been on the honor roll all through the four years she has been with us in high school, we are convinced that she has great mental ability. As President of the class of '27 she proved to us her willingness to do her part and to be worthy of all the honors bestowed upon her. As Editor-in-chief of the CHSITE she is indispensable. She is a friend tried and true and we know she will be successful in whatever she may choose to do.

We have heard she intends to make nursing her profession. We wonder———? ? ?

*"Still they gazed, and still their wonder grew
That one small head could carry all she knew."*

Optimistic, Witty, Friendly
so—

Here is a good all round fellow and athlete. "Spivis" is very fond of the fairer sex as well as physics and geometry. He is always willing to help his fellow students in any way possible and we are expecting great things of him in the future.

*"Turn your face always toward the sun,
And the shadows will fall behind you."*

GRADY ERMA SMITH
"Grady"

Cary, North Carolina

Academic

Quiet, Studious, Honest
therefore—

Grady is a mixture of fun and seriousness. She takes life as it comes and manages to leave an impression of dependability and capability. We hardly know whether to prophesy that she will be a professor in some university or a famous movie star.

"Silence is golden."

Humorous, Studious, Gay

so—

If it wasn't for Percy and his inquisitiveness, we would be lonesome quite often in our work. He is one who asks and finds out and then keeps his knowledge to himself. He is from Rhankatte, but seems to have acquired very little of the art of the inhabitants.

"Small in stature, but large in everything that makes a friend."

FRANCES OMELIA SORRELL

Kind, Cheerful, Sincere
therefore—

In Frances we find a personality that is sure to make and hold for her hosts of friends where'er she may go. She is a loyal friend and one who sympathizes with one's joys and sorrows. If you want anything done call on her and it will surely be done. She has great ambition and determination. Her steadfastness and sincerity assure us that her future will be a success.

Industrious, Ambitious, Dependable

so—

Paul has won admiration among students and teachers as well. As Seniors we asked guidance, and on trial we found Paul capable and always ready. Holding this prominent office, President, and yet keeping all friends is remarkable—and we are grateful for such a friend. Here's wishing him success and that four more years will find him guiding his college classmates.

EDNA EARLE TRUITT
"Edna"

Cary, North Carolina

Academic

Lowell Society; Critic Society '27; Dramatic Club '28; Glee Club '27-28.

Flippant, Fickle, Pleasure-seeking but—

Edna is one on whom you may depend. She loves to dance and we fear the school stage will look rather empty at lunch next year without Edna, for this has been her favorite resort for the last four years. She likes to have a good time, but in some way she always succeeds in passing her work. We predict a brilliant future for her.

*"If you feel like flying, try it;
But look for a soft place to light."*

ELLA HAZEL TYSON
"Hazel"

Cary, North Carolina

Academic

Lowell Society; Secretary of Society '28.

Slow, Quiet, Honest
therefore—

Hazel has won a friendly place in the hearts of her friends during her one year here. She is very dependable, and when Hazel says she will do something, we feel sure that it will be done exactly right. We prophesy a brilliant future for her, and we are certain she will succeed in whatever she attempts.

"Much could be said about her if one could read her mind."

Pretty, Graceful, Popular yet—

"Flossie" is a good all-round girl who is always ready to do her part with a cheerful smile. In these three years she has been with us she has not only proved to be the "Beauty Queen" but a diligent and industrious worker and player. We are expecting her to be a great success in the future.

Cheerful, Dependable, Popular
but—

To say that "Kat" is all of these would be putting it mildly. But why shouldn't she be? She is always on the job whether it is serving on a committee or singing in the choir, and is a member of the Honor Roll. We gather from these facts that she can keep a mean between two extremes. She can socialize to her heart's content without being accused of being lightheaded and she can study without being a bookworm.

"Kat" will leave a place that will be hard to fill, when she departs from Cary High with her diploma under her arm.

"Every one is her friend and she is a friend to all."

Class History

OUR present Senior Class started its nocturnal watch with a band of forty-five. It was understood that the night would be divided into four watches. We realized the importance of having competent guidance, as we knew that many hardships would be encountered. With this in mind we held a conference and selected Ruby Hester as our leader. Our heaven was beautifully illuminated by an evening star, Miss Claire Nichols, our faculty adviser. At the first of our watch the universe was darkened by the angry looking clouds of Algebra and Latin. After some persistent effort they glided from our view. In the distance we saw the moon rising as moons eventually will, in the form of social activities, especially society receptions. The first watch rapidly came to a close with the thrilling days of Commencement in the form of numerous stars. "One part accomplished and all's well" was the report of our leader.

When our leader called us together at the beginning of the second watch, we found that some of our former members were missing and others had entered the watch. Our faithful colleague, Ruby Hester, was again chosen for the master watchman. Cæsar was one of the few constellations that cast its shadow during this watch. Even the shadow cast by Cæsar could not blot out our light from the social gaieties. Our same evening star was now high in the heavens to lead us safely to our third watch.

"Midnight and all's well."

Even though we were discouraged by the darkness of the night, our master watchman, Marie Murray, cited to us the coming dawn or graduation. We noticed that our evening star, Miss Nichols, had faded from our view and Mr. E. N. Meekins, our morning star, threw his luminous light over the watchmen. A comet was observed in the heavens which proved to be the Junior-Senior Reception. This disturbance in the elements was followed by another unusual phenomenon in the form of a shooting star as the picnic at Lake Myra. We began to sense the approach of our fourth watch when we held the arch for the triumphant march of those who had completed this one.

At the beginning of the fourth watch we realized that this would be our last together. As the master watchman of the last watch must be a person capable of holding an honorable position we readily chose Paul Tillman. Our morning star, Mr. Raper, was now high in the heavens pointing to us the rules for making the signal, Our Chsite, showing to the other watchers that we had successfully completed all of our watches. Depressed by the extreme darkness that precedes dawn—our Senior Essay—we searched the eastern sky for the rosy signs of the dawn of a new day, which was to be heralded by our Commencement. The first rosy streaks appeared in the form of banquets and receptions. Then came the burst of dawn and our march through the triumphant arch.

Oh, the sad elation of the end of our watch together and the beginning of a new watch with others among different scenes. But always our spirits will be with those who were faithful in our nocturnal watch.

FRANCES SORRELL, Historian

Class Prophecy

ONE winter evening as I sat by the fire dreaming, a fairy appeared before me, and in her hand she held a pure white rose. "To learn the future of each boy and girl in the Senior Class," she said, placing the rose and wand in my hand, "You must take this wand and touch lightly each petal." Then there was a soft rustling sound and she disappeared.

Lightly I touched the first petal as bidden, and in it I saw a huge stage, and an opera house packed with people. At a piano on the stage sat Frances Sorrell and by her side stood Daisy Batts, with her violin under her chin waiting for the signal to start their piece. It was a beautiful sight to behold—the audience waiting breathlessly and the two girls perfectly at ease on the stage.

The next petal I touched gave me the shock of my life. Paul Tillman, our president, was teaching a class of unruly children geometry. He seemed perfectly happy even though his patience was tried pretty often. Paul has learned to be patient by now, because if I'm not mistaken I see who used to be Geneva Hawkins waiting for Paul's class to be over.

In touching the next petal our much loved classmate, Flora Williams, comes into sight. Flora excelled in athletics and is teaching in spite of her husband's protests, but Flora always did like ball and is proving it by the choice of her life mate.

The next petal opens on a very happy scene—the front porch of a prosperous looking home. The favorite of the class of '28 affectionately telling his wife, good-bye as he starts for the large firm of Stevens Clothing Company.

The next petal I touched revealed a cozy corner of a living room. Grady was busy unfolding to her husband the plans of her lesson that she was to teach the next day. The Virginia sun slowly disappears as the scene fades away.

The next scene opens on Fifth Avenue, New York. As my eyes become accustomed to the bright lights, a very artistic sign attracts my attention. The sign reads "Burrus & Mathewson, Insurance Company."

As if by magic the scene changed and I was gazing upon a beautifully furnished studio. A group of girls were taking lessons in aesthetic dancing. When I could see more distinctly, I recognized the instructor as Helen Hines.

Edna Truitt's beauty has at last classed her as an "extra girl" in Hollywood.

Dwight took a course in commercial art, and is now a famous artist spending his winters in Italy, transforming the beautiful scenery on canvas.

The next petal revealed a quaint little tea room in Paris, Marie Murray and Mary Hudson House being the proprietors, having made a great success.

Reginald Godwin was left a beautiful estate by a rich uncle who died recently. We know that he is pleased, especially because it has a thick growth of shrubbery and trees surrounding it. He seemed very fond of trees at Cary.

When the curtain was again pulled, I saw a crowd of people gazing intently at one spot. The next instant I saw a horse with a lady sitting calmly on his back dive off into the water. When the lady came out of the water, who should it be but the much loved classmate of '28, Frances Chadwick?

Raymond was always a quiet kind of fellow at Cary, but I knew he would make his mark in the world. He is a promising young lawyer, practicing in California.

In the next petal there is an office of a large business firm. A slender girl answers the summons of her employer's bell. She is no other than Lesbia Green, the private secretary of the president of the firm.

Percy and Wilson are the owners of a large opera house in West Palm Beach, Florida. On this particular evening the special feature is Miss Kathleen York, who has become a noted singer.

The next petal I touched gave me the greatest shock of all: our classmate, Hazel Tyson, has become a famous author. She is in the living-room of her home discussing her latest book with a friend. It is entitled "How to Get and Hold Your Man." You will be surprised to hear that she has also become a modern flapper.

Ralph Tucker and Felix Moore are running a hot-dog stand on Coney Island. They have tried their skill at many different trades but find this the most successful.

In the heart of every rose is buried a gem most precious, and touching the petal which formed the heart, immediately I heard the strains of the "Rustic Dance" and there before my eyes danced our beloved classmate, Elizabeth Jones. She has become a famous stage dancer.

Class Poem

For these many years it seems to us
 We've worked and toiled to win our goal;
 And to our parents and teachers we trust
 Our tale of hardships, now to be untold.

We have worked, we have toiled,
 As onward through life we go;
 To do that which was put forth
 Through help, which was to our sorrow and woe.

And now as we near the goal,
 And look back upon the years;
 We think, but do not say
 For fear of coming tears.

} CARY HIGH SCHOOL

WE, the Senior Class of Cary High School of 1928, being of sound mind and memory, realizing that we will soon go out in the world to fight for ourselves, and being possessed of certain real and imaginary effects of which we wish to dispose, do hereby declare this document our lawful will and testament, and the hereinafter mentioned persons and classes to be our true and lawful heirs.

ARTICLE I

To Mr. Dry, we do will our sincere love and devotion.

ARTICLE II

To the class of 1929:

1. We present our places as Seniors, also a microscope, with the hope that they may find our privileges and enjoy them as much as we have.
2. And of being a model and example to all the underclassmen, and being a delight and inspiration to every one, including the faculty.
3. And the task of putting out an annual next year, and may it be a success.

ARTICLE III

To the class of 1930:

1. Junior privileges, with the hope that the burden will not prove too heavy for their young shoulders.
2. All chewing gum found under desks, and we sincerely hope that they will enjoy pawning all other possessions we have.

ARTICLE IV

To the Freshmen:

1. The hope of being Seniors some day.
2. All our refinement and dignity, which we hope they will carry through school. We also hope they will demand their rights and privileges.

ARTICLE V

To Mr. Smith:

1. A dormitory of clean rooms, and boys who will pay the janitor's fee promptly.
2. Successful athletic spirit next year.

To Miss Smith:

1. We leave the Student body with marked ability to sing "Love's Old Sweet Song."

To Miss King:

1. A group of girls that will always be slipping out.
2. A hope that she will give the girls more privileges.
3. A new dormitory with nickel-plated bars in the windows and doors.

To Mr. Raper:

1. Success in everything he undertakes.

To Mr. Lecka:

1. A physics class that will work and stay in the laboratory the whole period.
2. Success with his new Chevrolet. We hope it may find him a wife.

To Miss Jones:

1. New and better equipment for the "gym."
2. New uniforms for the girls basketball team.

CHSITE

To Mr. Meekins:

1. A group of "aggie" boys that don't mind working hard and can "chew."

To Miss York:

1. A group of girls who can boil water without scorching it.

To Miss Passmore:

1. A group of students that won't "couple up" in the library.

To Mrs. Stewart:

1. Students that will not be late to English class.
2. And success in married life.

To Miss Nichols:

1. Place as lady principal when Miss King leaves.

To Miss Gill:

1. A large and successful teacher-training class.

ARTICLE VI

1. Paul Tillman leaves to Jack Murdock his ability as a leader, and being heard.
2. Jack Burruss leaves Claiborne Johnson his mustache.
3. To Fabius Stevenson, Percy Wilson gives his studiousness.
4. Dwight Eatman leaves to Glenn Davis his permanent smile.
5. Felix Moore leaves to John Wyatt his laziness.
6. Ted Mathewson wills his power to attract young ladies to Fred Nipper.
7. Wilson Fonville leaves his ready wit to James Wright.
8. To Bryce Holleman, Raymond Rogers bequeaths his handsomeness, who indeed can use it.
9. Ralph Tucker leaves to Ed Wyatt his secret with the glass blowers.
10. Graham Stevens wills to Frank Batts his literary fame.
11. Frances Sorrell leaves to Martha Castlebury her "never stop" conversational ability.
12. To Robert Pleasants, Marie Murray wills her power to make high grades.
13. Daisy Batts leaves to Marvin Jones her musical talent.
14. Mary Hudson House leaves to Mary Andrews her baby ways.

The Home Economics Department

Miss York, Instructor

THE Home Economics course is organized to cover two years' work and is designed for the eighth and ninth grade students. The first year is devoted to food, textiles and clothing; the second to dietetics, textiles and clothing, home nursing, house planning and interior decoration.

Young Tarheel Farmers

"Agriculture is the World's greatest industry and the Soil is its greatest Physical Asset."

BELIEVING fully in the above quotation of many years standing, the Agricultural Department of Cary High School endeavors in its four years course of Practical Vocational Agriculture, to not only direct its students to gain knowledge in the chief occupation of the universe, but also to create a desire on their part to love the open country, whereby rural life will be made more abundant, wholesome, and in every way tend toward a better perfected civilization.

The Teacher Training Class

MISS LOUISE GILL, Instructor

IN 1922 North Carolina followed the lead of other states and added Teacher Training as a department, in some of her high schools. Four departments were established that year and four more were formed in 1923. In 1924 five additional departments were added and eight in 1927. This made a total of thirteen departments in the State.

Superintendent A. T. Allen and Mrs. T. E. Johnston, Supervisor of Teacher Training, from their knowledge of the need of teachers in the elementary rural schools, worked out a course of study. Its purpose was to give one year of intense training in practice teaching to students who have graduated from high school. There is no charge for tuition.

One of the thirteen departments of Teacher Training was established at Cary High School in 1922. It is one of the best equipped in the State. The student teachers do their work in observation and practice teaching in the grades of the elementary school. A splendid library of professional books and other materials on instruction is provided for the student teachers by the county. The students prepare their work under the very best conditions.

Physical Education

MISS JONES, Instructor

NO system of education is complete which does not give adequate attention to physical development. At Cary the student has the advantage of an ideal climate famed for health, and provision is made for careful, systematic exercise of the principles of hygiene and health.

The physical education girls and boys are recognized as loyal, dependable, and well-trained, working and playing together for their good and the good of the community in which they find themselves. To those of you who are interested in Physical Education we send this message, come and we will make you welcome.

All forms of physical exercise are given, including free gymnastics, marching, running, mat work, track, folk dancing, basket ball, volley ball, baseball, and apparatus work. The gymnastic exhibition which is given at Commencement time is the main feature of the year and is enjoyed by all.

Football

THE 1927 football season was a season of ups and downs, up on the big end of the score in one game and down on the small end in the next. However, considering the fact that we lost the entire line last Spring, we consider that we had a successful season. If total scores count for anything the season was by far the most successful of many years, as the red and white warriors amassed over one hundred points. During the season Captain Burruss led his cohorts against some of the strongest teams in the East, including Goldsboro, Dunn, Wendell, Apex, Hillsboro, and Garner.

Boys Basketball

WITH only one letter man back our team seemed to suffer stage fright in the early games of the season, but they more than made up for this in the last games. While Jack Murdock has been the high scorer for the season the entire team deserves much credit for the fight they have shown against much larger teams. Our team this year was probably the smallest team to ever represent Cary on the hardwood. Captain Ball has played a consistent game at guard all the season and has been ably assisted by Creel, Jones, Murdock, Johnson, Stevens, Branton, Olive, and Horton. The team will long be noted for its ability to make comebacks in the last minutes of play.

 Center row: Hines, Forward; Chadwick, Forward; Williams, Captain and Forward; Coach Jones.
 Right row: Pleasants, Forward; Castlebury, Guard; Yates, Guard; Montague, Forward.

Girls Basketball

IN '28 as well as in the preceding years there has been trouble in getting the girls to "come out" to practice. But nevertheless the girls who did come out came with a determination and vim and we managed to win the majority of the games played. We know that Cary has the material; therefore, for '29 we are predicting more "spirit" and the best basketball team ever.

Baseball

WITH several letter men back this season the prospects are bright for baseball. With Murdock, Tar Barrel Eatman, and Strike-out Johnson, and many likely looking candidates out for places, opposing fly chasers should be kept busy.

“Funny Stuff”

JUDGE: How can you prove your innocence?

HOP HORTON: Give me time.

JUDGE: Ten years.

DWIGHT E.: Let's get tied.

DAISY B.: Let's knot.

MRS. STEWART: What excuse have you for not having your assignment?

WOODROW S.: I overslept and did not have time to think up an excuse.

MR. DRY (In chapel): No, students, we can't all be Lindberghs; just think what a mess the telephone directory would be.

SPIVIS: What did I learn today, teacher?

MRS. STEWART: Why do you ask?

SPIVIS: They'll want to know at home.

WILLA MYATT: Glenn can't come. He's in the hospital. Some one stepped on his pipe during the game.

GRADY: I don't see how that would make him have to go to the hospital.

WILLA: It was his windpipe.

JAMES WRIGHT: There's no question but that the real estate I recently purchased in Florida will come out all right—at low tide.

GEORGE BALL: Does Jack know how to neck?

HELEN: Does he? Why, my dear, I almost thought once that he was lynching me.

MR. MEEKINS: Felix, these eggs aren't fresh.

FELIX: I just brought them in from the country.

MR. MEEKINS: What country?

MISS SMITH: Can you imagine anything worse than that solo?

MISS PASSMORE: Yes, the quartette is four times as bad.

LINDBERGH: Hey, what is that red light for?

M. JONES: That is a fire exit, stupid.

LINDBERGH: What do they use it for?

JONES: It is where they put the fire out, of course.

PAUL T.: Say, teacher I want a week off to get married.

MR. W.: What light-headed, stupid, silly, nit-witted dumb-bell would want to marry you?

PAUL: It's your daughter, sir.

MISS KING: Rachel is getting a man's wages.

MISS YORK: Yes, I knew she was married.

NIPPER: Did you ever fall in love with words?

GODWIN: Yes; with these words—"enclosed find check".

MR. SMITH (to Graham Stevens): I heard that Mr. Lecka was going to marry a woman with a wooden leg.

GRAHAM S.: Yes, he heard that there was going to be a fuel shortage.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to interpret the ideas of the Staff and create in material form their vision.

From the art work and engravings to the finished book, this volume is the result of organized coöperation with the Staff.

Such able coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete coöperation from art work and engravings to the finished book, we offer unexcelled service. Complete service means undivided responsibility as to the result—one organization to correspond and talk with—one trained director to merge the many ingredients into the finished product.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
